Reporting Server

Reporting Server is a web-based reporting system for displaying information from WorkSite, or WorkSite data combined with data from other systems.

Reporting Server can help you track how well your matter-centric environment is being used, including which users or groups need training, for insight into the business areas you need to illuminate.

This powerful, flexible tool offers a range of useful pre-built reports, as well as fully customizable reporting (and design) tools that can combine WorkSite data with data from other systems. Users can run reports themselves from the secure web interface, and export the data to a variety of different formats.

Reporting Server's key features:

- Create your own custom reports combining data from multiple data sources.
- Integrate corporate or custom designs easily.

- Immediately run a host of pre-defined reports based on user activities, class, author, client, security, etc.
- Combine charts and tabular data.
- Chart wizard supports dozens of 2D and 3D chart formats and settings.
- Centralized web service built on powerful, flexible SOAP platform.

The benefits to you:

- Reports on the usage, efficiency, and make-up of your WorkSite environment
- Provides easy user interface to extend to users the ability to run detailed reports on content in WorkSite

Understanding what is in your WorkSite system helps you to better understand how to organize that data. With Reporting Server, you can not only run detailed reports but give certain administrative personnel the ability to run reports themselves.
